

CHERRY CREEK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Position: Director of High School Ministries

The Director of High School Ministries is responsible for teaching, shepherding, and leading our high school students and families in a Christ-centered life. This ministry includes weekly programming, as well as multiple retreats, mission trips, and camps throughout the year. A unique strength of this ministry is a long-standing, relational volunteer team that walks alongside students with consistency and care.

This is a full-time, team-based position that values a relational approach to staff, students, and volunteers. The Director of High School Ministries will walk alongside students during a formative season of life, helping students grow in Christ through intentional teaching, discipling, and relationships.

Primary Gifts and Qualifications

A qualified candidate will:

- Hold Christian beliefs compatible with those of the Evangelical Presbyterian Church
- Hold a degree from an accredited university
- Have multiple years of experience within a youth ministry context (extensive volunteer experience will be considered)
- Have gifts in shepherding, teaching and leading
- Work well in a team-based setting
- Love the Gospel, High School students & good coffee/chai

Church and Team

Cherry Creek Presbyterian Church is a congregation within the Evangelical Presbyterian Church denomination. We are a mid-sized, intergenerational church in the Denver Metro area that seeks to faithfully live a Christ-centered life together and invite others to do the same.
